

Shacklocks LLP

Solicitors & Investment Advisors

Shacklocks Solicitors & Investment Advisors, Shacklocks LLP, is pleased to announce that they have been re-awarded the Lexcel Quality Mark by the Law Society. The commendation lasts for three years and is awarded to solicitors who demonstrate a high standard of client care and practice management.

Lexcel assessed members of the team across all of the Shacklocks offices through interviews and observation. To be successful, each office and staff member should understand the values of the Lexcel accreditation scheme and the ways in which they individually contribute towards ensuring a high standard of client care.

This year's Lexcel report particularly identified a number of areas of good practice within Shacklocks, which show the firm to go beyond the requirement for the standard itself. The Lexcel assessor commented positively on Shacklocks approach to recruitment, induction, contingency planning and risk management.

Managing Partner, Marion Vesey, praised the firm, saying: " This is a great achievement and I am proud to have staff who have real commitment to the values of the Lexcel standard. Our firm's motto is 'Knowledge + Application', and this accreditation demonstrates our determination and how hard we work as a firm to maintain a sustained high standard of service for the people of Nottinghamshire."

Shacklocks LLP has a team of 45, which includes 18 specialist lawyers and financial advisors, three trainee solicitors and a full management support team. Shacklocks delivers a range of legal and financial services, including commercial, property, family, personal injury and dispute resolution, from their offices in Mansfield, Belper, Ripley and Allestree.
